Dear Lora:

Enclosed is the invoice for 2012 NASBE dues. The timing of the invoice reflects the diversity of fiscal calendars among the states and affords your state the flexibility of paying anytime between now and the end of the year.

As you know, NASBE is the only organization committed to the professional development and information needs of lay leaders in education. Recognizing the challenging fiscal climate we all face, I believe it is more important than ever to have you and the (insert state board) involved and engaged in NASBE. State education agencies struggle with capacity issues, and while we can't do all of your work for you, we are a resource that you can use to fill in the gaps. Equally important is the information and support we provide to your members to make them better policymakers.

In the coming year we will continue to provide:

- High quality professional development for Boards and Board Members including;
  - Study Groups that allow members to explore in-depth critical education issues and develop recommendations for policymakers across the nation;
  - Convening opportunities for State Board Members such as: the Annual Conference, Legislative Conference, New State Board Members' Institute and Topical Conferences;
  - Competitive grants for Board initiatives in targeted areas;
  - In-state assistance and field services for Board retreats, strategic planning and issue-based workshops;
