Increase promotion activities leading to additional incubator and accelerator facilities.
 I plan to promote entrepreneurship more to youth and 4-H workshops since I understand it better now.
 find more partnership ideas with my local schools to teach entrepreneurship skills!
 More work with younger students to develop entrepreneurship potential
 Teaching ....gave me some new possible program ideas or activities
 I don't know that I needed an attitude adjustment or convincing to be interested in the topics in the first place - I went because I AM interested in learning and the conference helped
 For people to consider adding alternative enterprises.
 Be more involved in the community to see what its needs might be.
 Continue expanding the reach of our efforts to the region (surrounding states)
 Continue focusing on our ReVISION process. Also, we need to do more as a school for having kids assess their strengths and interests at a younger age.
 Talk more about maker-spaces and less about written business plans!
 Consider how we can work to continue to weave entrepreneurship education into career education standards.
 Bring more outside speakers into the classroom and have them interact with the students and relate their experiences to them.
 I will pass along information that could help school districts provide more opportunities for students.
 I've been reluctant to look into teaching Entrepreneurship and now feel more confident.
 I plan to encourage students to dream big and if there is something out there that they want to do to give it a chance.
 Work environment changes - a collaborative work environment that focuses the product not the time
 n/a I attended as a friend and I are thinking of launching a business.
 Encourage students to think outside of the box.
 include in curriculum
 Teaching- I'd love to run some entrepreneurship classes.

Assist in coordinating e-ship growth by providing additional education training opportunities for all.
I hope to help promote local rotary and chamber to invite new businesses to town.

n/a
Same as above
Encourage communities to think globally, but to work locally. Big picture.
Reinforce the need to highlight entrepreneurial success stories
Continue to reach out to our local business community and organizations to keep them involved in improvement efforts and informed on how they can support students.
Talk to local legislators about promoting workforce activity in new ways.
N/A
I lined up a couple of individuals at the conference to speak at our 4H meeting.
None at this time.
We are in the process of a reVision plan and so this was a big help in making sure we are doing things correctly.
Add Entrepreneurship as a potential career academy for students

"Hallway" conversations hearing from the young entrepreneurs
 the governor talking about his family's business experiences, Eric Englemann's way of thinking, hearing the live actual businesses started- like chicken production, refinishing autos/bus, Cody kildgore grocery store.
 The students speaking about their own businesses
 Hearing the Big Ideas.
 All of it....and the networking
 The fast pitches after lunch.
 Hearing about the Iowa Startup Accellerator
 I enjoyed the venue and format of the presentations. They was a variety of sessions to keep us engaged throughout the day.
 The keynote speaker and how that tied in to the afternoon tour.
 The quality and diversity of speakers and presenters.
 Just hearing about the experiences of the entrepreneurs.
 networking, Big Idea talks
 Hearing about individual and school Entrepreneurship projects.
 Learn what is going on in other places. Listening to the success stories and knowing that others can do the same.
 The whole concept of entrepreneurship
 a chance to hear young entrepreneurs, but also Steve Tippery who is older and starting a business
 Networking Call to action Real life stories from Nebraskans

Brent Comstock		It was helpful to see a high level example of a Nebraska entrepreneur.
The first education track		Solidified my experience in a community that rallied around workforce development as a whole with schools, biz, gov't, etc.
Gallup EP10		Having a tangible set of my entrepreneurial talents that I can put into action.
Opening Keynote		Fremont is working on creating an accelerator building just like his.
Educational related sessions
Success Stories		Keep positive with students
all attended		gleaned some good information from all the young man from Auburn		Although he grew up with the message of "you need to leave this town" he figured out a way to launch a tech company in Auburn.
Panel of entrepreneurs		it can happen
MakerSpaces		Liked learning about them

Additional time for attendee one-on-one discussions

Have a session or two that can provide ideas for us to take into the after school setting.

Include middle school student projects

Some ag related topics in the general sessions.

Continue to bring in speakers from outside Nebraska

This was a great workshop. I will likely attend in the future. Some booths of school examples (kind of like NETA or the Nebraska School Boards Association).

More fluent speakers, maybe more relevant and specific topics

More NEW ideas. Less NE focus - other states are similar, but NE was really highlighted to an extreme - policy workshops, ed ops, etc

Fewer competing workshops so I don't have to choose between equally compelling topics.

Keep it very similar have more involvement from high schools providing entrepreneurial opportunities

Invite students to hear.

Similar format with more interaction time in between sessions to collect ideas include more seasoned adults on your panel

more stories - connections to org that can help

Please do not double up with RFI again and their side events. It was pretty much impossible to really take in either venue. Another time and place would have been better. I thought the venue itself was confusing (but nice). Multi-levels. I never did find the refreshments that were available once between sessions.

Great workshop and hope to attend again in the future.

GREAT opener to Rural Futures! And the value was amazing!

Great conference and location. Great opportunity to see Innovation Campus.

Pete was an exceptional speaker.
