

ETHICS QUIZ

DIRECTIONS: The following questionnaire will ask you several questions about your current or future behaviors. Answer honestly. You are the only one to see the answers. These are “food for thought” questions aimed to stimulate self-awareness. Your responses are personal.

WOULD YOU EVER...	YES	NO
Blame a friend or classmate for a mistake you made?
Copy a friend’s homework?
Put a false statement in your bio or resume to get a job or get accepted to college?
Deliberately hurt, embarrass or ridicule a classmate?
Stay home from school to complete a project that was assigned three weeks ago?
Lie about why you are late to class or work?
Login to a computer as your friend and then complete his/her assignment?
Not return change to a salesperson that gave you more than was due?
Cheat at a game or contest in order to boost your score?
Plagiarize someone else’s work without giving proper credit?
Not report someone you see stealing or cheating on a test?
Betray a friend’s confidence by telling others his/her secrets?
Ask a friend to tell you test questions?
Not confront a classmate who is disruptive or disrespectful?
Pretend to be sick at work or at school when you were not?
Copy and use software on your computer that you did not purchase?
Park in a handicapped spot?
Not report someone who is harassing or bullying another person?
Download a music file such as mp3 from the Internet that you did not purchase or was not being given away free of charge?		