ALERT

PANHANDLE HUMANE SOCIETY IN SCOTTSBLUFF RECOGNIZED FOR HELPING PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES FIND JOBS, OPPORTUNITIES

The Panhandle Humane Society in Scottsbluff will be recognized Fri., Dec. 17, for providing employment opportunities to individuals with disabilities.

For 16 years, Deb Schutte, the Panhandle Humane Society's executive director, and the staff have provided Nebraska Vocational Rehabilitation clients with opportunities for career exploration, on-the-job evaluation, on-the-job training and employment.

In recognition of the Panhandle Humane Society's long-term commitment to individuals with disabilities and its business practice of employing people with disabilities, Nebraska Vocational Rehabilitation Services will present the staff with an award during the Fri., Dec. 17, 1:30 p.m. MST, event, which will be held at the Panhandle Humane Society, 126 South Beltline Hwy. West, in Scottsbluff.

Vocational Rehabilitation, a division of Nebraska Department of Education, helps Nebraska residents who have experienced a disability find and maintain employment. For more information, visit Vocational Rehabilitation's website at www.vr.ne.gov or call toll free 877-637-3422.
