

Threat Assessment

Building Threat Assessment Partnerships for Nebraska K-12 Schools

April 7, 2011 - Kearney, NE / April 13, 2011 - Norfolk, NE / 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM

Participants will learn how to:

- Prevent school violence through practical behavioral threat assessment
- Identify warning signs of possible violent behavior
- Employ appropriate interventions to prevent school violence
- Use effective threat assessment team management strategies
- Work with Law Enforcement to keep the school safe

Register Free Online:

<http://ppcta.unl.edu>

*Registration is free, but space is limited.

Speakers

Chief Owen Yardley has over 30 years experience in law enforcement, including the last ten years at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. UNL Police have developed progressive programs including closed circuit television (CCTV), geographic information systems (GIS), text reporting, large event management and the Threat Assessment Partnership. Chief Yardley is on the Board of Directors for the Association of Threat Assessment Professionals. He has presented regionally and nationally on threat assessment, large venue security as well as other campus issues including alcohol strategies on college campuses.

Dr. Mario Scalora Dr. Mario Scalora received his Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska in 1989 and joined the faculty in 1997. Dr. Scalora is currently performing consultation and research in a variety of areas related to targeted violence and threat assessment. This research continues to involve collaboration with educational institutions, state and federal agencies dealing with threat management, workplace violence and counterterrorism issues.

*This workshop is made possible with funding provided by the Behavioral Health Education Center of Nebraska:
<http://www.unmc.edu/bhecn/>*

Due to the sensitive nature of this topic, location information will be sent to participants upon registration.