c. Transportation Committee

Eleanor Kirkland reported on recent meetings of the group, which is comprised of state agency staff and others from various community organizations. ECICC members and technical assistants working with the group are Laura Good Buffalo, John Street, Deb Ross, Melody Hobson, Lynn Brehm, and Pat Urzedowski. The group has been looking at the alignment of Head Start and school transportation regulations. A smaller group will redesign curriculum for those involved in transporting of young children. They expect to make an abridged version widely available and are developing visuals to describe restraints, as well as covering issues and resources about them. Availability of these materials is projected for summer 2009. The group is also looking at requirements for drivers, including background checks.

d. Head Start Regulations Ad Hoc Group

Eleanor Kirkland is leading an ad hoc group that includes several GBC members to discuss ways to blend the requirements of the Head Start Advisory Council with ECICC functions. This includes ways to use the ECICC Report to the Governor to also fulfill the reporting requirements of the Head Start Advisory Council. Eleanor provided a copy of the sections of Head Start Act pertinent to the Advisory Council, which will be included with the other legislative statutes that apply to ECICC.

e. Legislative and Communications Committee (LCC)

The LCC is following the revision of the Child Care Licensing Regulations, the writing of the Report to the Governor, and new legislation. They are also working with Nebraska Children and Families Foundation (NCFE) staff who are meeting with new state senators to inform them about early childhood issues and information. The LCC also reported that Governor Heineman will chair the education group of the National Governors Association.

3. Family Story

Jera Hinkle, Kearney, Nebraska, provided the family story during the working lunch period of the Council. She told about her family's joys and challenges with her son, Braden, who was born with disabilities requiring a high level of services and care. She described developments in assistive technology and recalled favorite events and friendships that supported them as individuals and as a family and provided photos and memorabilia to paint a picture of Braden's and their family's life.

4. Public Comment:

- a. Terry Rohren announced that Barb Schliesser will retire December 31, 2008 from her position at NDE, and consequently, from ECICC.
- b. Deb Ross requested Council discussion about whether ECICC should write a letter to the Governor and/or state senators related to the Safe Haven Bill to be acted upon during a special session of the Legislature the following week. Council members discussed issues about the bill's intent, its content and language. There was consensus that there was not adequate time to draft recommendations and send a letter before action would be taken on the bill. There was agreement that more information is needed about services for families in crisis. Betty Medinger and Terry Rohren agreed to look at resources about available services.

5. Medical Home Project

Nina Baker gave a presentation on her work for PTI-Nebraska on the Family to Family Health Information Center, part of which is Medical Home. She described what is meant by Medical Home and how she works with families and professionals to build trust and communication that result in a coordinated effort to provide high quality and cost effective care to help children achieve their potential. Nina described the philosophy behind Medical Home and the resources and initiatives that support it. Nina is working with Together for Kids and Families, Head Start, and Planning Region Teams to provide information about the project. She provided resources describing her work and that of PTI-Nebraska and responded to questions and comments from meeting participants.

6. Positive Behavior and Intervention Supports (PBiS) Update

Eleanor Kirkland briefly reviewed developments in PBiS. The leadership team is meeting on January 13, 2009, to look at ways to coordinate overall efforts rather than focusing on silo activities. Additional updates are available from NDE's Office of Early Childhood and the Early Childhood Training Center. She also referred the group to the CSEFEL (Center on the Social and Emotional Foundations of Early Learning) website for further information:

In addition, she briefly outlined programs related to Safe with You trainings and statewide resources, which are described in the ECTC November newsletter, What's Up, available online at: <http://ectc.nde.ne.gov/whatsup/whatsup.html>.

9. Child Care Licensing Regulations

Pat Urzedowski, administrator of Children's Services Licensing for the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (NDHHS), provided an overview of the history and development of Nebraska's Child Care Licensing Regulations and the process to revise them. In 2003, a two-year process was started to wholly revise the format and language of the regulations to make them easier to read and understand and also to develop new regulations aimed at programs for school-age children. Persons working on the revisions included Pat Urzedowski and Diane Kvasnicka from NDHHS; Linda Meyers from NDE; Lisa St. Claire from Munroe-Meyers Institute; and ECICC members: Carrie Witte, Kim Madsen, and LeaAnn Johnson. A summary of comments is projected for December 2008 after which further action will be defined. Pat described the sections of the revised regulations and touched on training that will be recommended and/or required on the revised regulations.

With no other items to be discussed, the Council adjourned at 3:30 p.m.
