MUSIC ENDORSEMENTS—Ad Hoc Meeting DISCUSSION NOTES (Meeting #1 - 7.11.14):

How can certification in NE be transferred to other states? Do we still need to maintain the subject endorsements? Would broad field endorsement be better? Many other states have only a Music field endorsement, and no subject endorsements.

Don't want to water down the endorsements so that teachers do not receive adequate training to feel prepared to teach.

The K-12 endorsement is something teachers need to understand—what does this allow them to do and what are expectations with this endorsement at school districts hiring them?

State Board approved Fine Arts Standards for K-12 students need to be taken into consideration when reviewing the endorsements.

Supplemental Endorsements – would this be an option with the music endorsements? A Supplemental must be attached to a subject/field endorsement.

In future, Professional Development will likely be required for recertification, rather than on experience. NE is one of the few states that does not require PD at this time. Supplemental endorsements might work well in that capacity.

In a Graduate program, if can tie-in a supplemental, it would be very desirable and more teachers might go more in-depth with coursework.

Observation by student candidates, working with co-operating teachers—getting more hands-on experience prior to student teaching would be very helpful. Are connections being made between methods classes and actual teaching experience? Placing candidates in school settings for field experiences is becoming more challenging. Have to find school districts, co-operating teachers, schedules that will work with candidate schedules.

National standards are becoming more pedagogy-based, rather than dealing with specific content.

Career Education Certificate—is this something workable? NE still wants teacher to have a teaching certificate. How do we honor the needs of schools when traditional teacher preparation isn't working? Outstate schools have difficulty finding qualified music teachers.

Need to include Technology in music educator preparation programs.

Is there anything positive in removing subject endorsements? Only interest would be that these are endorsements on the books that are viable for candidates and meeting the needs of the state. Is someone with minimal training better than having no one?

NEXT STEPS:

- --Instrumental—Supplemental? What courses are needed?
- --More information needed from institutions on both vocal and instrumental subject endorsements.
- --Look at viability of the supplemental endorsements and employability options.
- -- May eventually look at specialty areas of endorsements later.
- --Implementation of Technology—must be addressed. What is available today did not exist when Music endorsements were last revised.
- --Keep Subject Endorsements—will work on these at NDE for presentation at next ad hoc meeting.
- --Draft Endorsements will be distributed to ad hoc committee to review and respond to. An additional meeting will be held after that to finalize ad hoc committee recommendations to NCTE. (Possibly August 29?)

Meeting held at NCSA Meeting Room. (Wandzilak, Jankovich, Childs absent)

Music field endorsement – reviewed by ad hoc committee and improvements made to endorsement and guidelines. NDE staff will add the language for Standard 6 Professionalism, based on discussion of elements needed.

Vocal Music subject endorsement – discussion held on minimum number of credit hours and grade level change. Guidelines should mirror music field endorsement, with references to instrumental music removed.

Instrumental Music subject endorsement – Ad hoc committee recommendation is to remove this endorsement from Rule 24, as the difference in this subject endorsement and the Music field endorsement is approximately 4-6 credit hours. All institutions who offer this endorsement also offer the Music field endorsement.

Madsen shared that only one comment had been received since the previous ad hoc meeting, and it was suggested an instrument repair course should be included. Some of the institutions reported that they do offer this course.

Regarding content testing—Music education field endorsement candidates and Vocal Music subject endorsement candidates take the same Music Praxis II test (5114 Music: Content and Instruction), therefore guidelines need to be consistent.
