School: Ewing Public Schools

Summary of Topic:

Face Value

Main Curriculum Tie:

Communication and body language.

Required Materials for Lesson:

Index cards.

Background for Teacher:

Reading body language is important for a healthcare professional, as well as being aware of the body language you are giving off.

Student Prior Knowledge:Intended Learning Outcome:

Be able to read body language of people/patients.

Instructional Procedure:

- Use index cards to write down different facial expressions/feelings on each one.
- Each student takes a card and then take turns acting out the expression.
- Other students try to guess the expression. Discuss other ways of showing emotions.

How to Measure Outcome:

Discuss importance of body language and how easy and fast students are able to get the expression. Discuss how important it is as a professional to have proper body language and also how to read your patient's body language.
