

Basic and Advanced Threat Assessment Training

FOR SCHOOL THREAT ASSESSMENT TEAMS

Why Threat Assessment?

Threat Assessment teams work to PREVENT an incident or event by studying human behavior and putting pieces together when dots (information) do not connect. They connect those dots of information to put together a picture to determine if the behavior someone is exhibiting is concerning behavior and if that behavior is a low, moderate, or high concern of someone carrying out targeted violence toward others or themselves. Threat Assessment is a key preventive measure to assess the credibility of a threat and manage that threat.

Basic Threat Assessment

This K-12 virtual school team training will help your school form or enhance the team that will focus on identifying, assessing, and managing the risk/threat of targeted violence posed by students, staff, and community members toward the school community. Schools are encouraged to participate with a team of at least four members (e.g., administrators, faculty/staff, security or law enforcement partner, and mental health partner).

The objectives for the two-day training include:

- Distinguish between credible threats and non-credible threats
- Identify and use the principles of threat assessment in school settings
- Demonstrate effective strategies for assessing levels of concern
- Formulate strategies for monitoring and managing risk
- Describe effective threat assessment protocols appropriate for school settings
- Apply principles of threat assessment and management to case examples

Virtual Two-day training: $100 per person, Teams with all roles filled (administrator, staff, law enforcement, and mental health partner) attend free.

Dates: Sept. 29-30, 2021

Advanced Threat Assessment: Intervention & Threat Management

Prerequisite: Basic Threat Assessment training

During this one-day virtual training, participants will explore practical threat management strategies for use in school settings. Different interventions will be discussed that are appropriate for use with students or adults/staff.

Effective interventions are built on good information and feedback that can be difficult to obtain due to privacy or legal barriers. Training will include strategies for addressing these barriers.

Participants will enhance their ability to obtain good information via interactions with subjects, witnesses, and targets by enhanced elicitation skill building activities.

Virtual One-day training: Free

Advanced Threat Assessment: Communication

Prerequisite: Basic Threat Assessment training
This K-12 virtual school training will focus on risk communication principles in situations that are high concern/low trust, sensitive, or controversial. Risk communication skills are a necessity in dealing with journalists and other stakeholders in a threatening situation.

Determine the message:

- What, when to message, how much to communicate when a threat has been made
- Identify communication techniques to de-escalate threat situations
- Apply principles of communication toward threat situations
