Suicide Risk Assessment (SBQ-R) and Re-Entry

"One of the most important things you can do on this earth is let people know they are not alone."

Shannon L. Alder

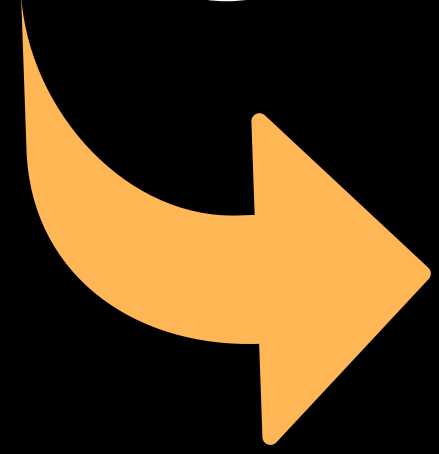

SBQ-R

With suicide being the second leading cause of death for school-aged youth, schools need to have a well-defined and consistent intervention process to immediately and effectively address concerns. The SBQ-R (Suicide Behaviors Questionnaire-Revised) is a brief evidence-based suicide risk assessment tool to support this process. This training provides resources to help school mental health professionals:

- prepare staff to identify suicide risk factors, warning signs, and protective factors
- establish or strengthen the school's risk assessment and intervention process
- understand how to administer and interpret the SBQ-R to support the intervention efforts

All training is provided at no charge...

Re-entry

Frequently staff feel unprepared to support a student or colleague who is returning to school following suicidal behavior. Training assists staff in knowing what to look for and how to provide support for successful re-entry, including:

- add your Checklist for developing re-entry procedures
- safety re-entry plans
- teacher tips for supporting students ext here
