

Harvest of the Month

HONEY

DID YOU KNOW -

Bees gather nectar from many different flowers. The flower the bee visits helps determine the flavor and color of the honey they produce. While clover honey is the most common, a few other varieties include: wildflower, orange blossom, lavender, and buckwheat.

FUN FACT -

Bees pollinate many of the foods that people eat, including: sunflowers, melons, berries, apples, pears, cucumbers, avocados, and more!

FUN FACT -

The specific characteristics of beeswax can also depend on the beekeeping practices and the environment in which the bees are raised. Beeswax can be incorporated into all kinds of things, like beauty products, candles, and more.
