

Am I ready to take the test?

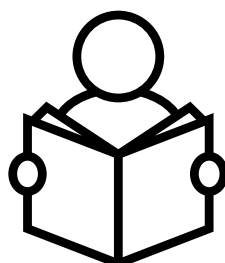

If you can answer yes to most of the following statements, then you are ready to take a proficiency test to apply for the Nebraska Seal of Biliteracy!

I can listen to and understand conversations, announcements, shows, or videos in my target language.

I can speak about myself, everyday activities, school, work, and events in my target language.

I can read and understand signs, letters, posters, magazines, new articles, or books in my target language.

I can write text messages, letters, stories about myself, common activities, school, work, and issues within my community and/or the world in my target language.

I'm learning and/or immersed in a World Language and plan to earn college credit for my language skills after high school graduation.

I'm learning and/or immersed in a World Language and plan to work in an international or multicultural environment where knowing that language is helpful.

