

NDE School Safety and Mental Health Suicide Prevention Trainings

Returning Zoom Training Opportunities:
Due to multiple requests, the NDE Suicide Prevention Team is repeating these free trainings from last fall for those who were unable to attend. Register for one or both of the following sessions.

School Procedures for Suicide Risk Assessment and/or Preparing School Staff for Effectively Assisting with Re-entry Following a Suicide Related Absence

School Procedures for Suicide Risk Assessment
With high rates of youth suicide, schools must be prepared to promptly and effectively intervene with all suicidal behavior. Screening youth at risk for suicidality can be an effective way of detecting and managing suicide risk. The training includes an overview of best intervention practices and supports, including the use of two risk screeners, the SBQ-R and the Columbia.

Preparing for Re-entry Support
January 29th, 2025
9:00-10:30 AM CT

Preparing Staff for Re-entry Support

Suicide risk is far greater for students or staff returning to school following a suicide related incident. This training assists staff in knowing what to look for and how to provide support for successful re-entry, including:

- Checklist for developing re-entry procedures
- Safety re-entry plans
- Teacher tips for optimizing support
