English in Action: Creative Tools for Engaging Migratory Youth and Families

IDEA is offering a webinar on September 29th at 8 PST, 9 MST, 10 CST, 11 EST to share resources with staff that are working with students who are learning English.

REGISTER HERE

How can Title I, Part C educators make learning English more meaningful, engaging, and accessible for migratory students and families? This interactive session will provide practical ideas, resources, and strategies that educators can use to support English learning both inside and outside the classroom. We have tools that can help you!

Participants will explore concepts that are important for second-language learners, discover resources that students and families can use independently, and learn creative ways to make English practice fun and relevant to everyday life. The session will highlight activities that encourage conversation, build confidence, strengthen vocabulary, and connect English learning to students' real-world experiences. Whether working with young children, secondary students, out-of-school youth, or parents, participants will leave with practical tools they can use immediately to create meaningful opportunities for English learning and engagement.

🥈 Congrats Yosgar!🎉 Please take a minute to get inspired by Yosgar's art piece. Description below. ⬇️

The future that I hope to create is a future that I am able to be happy and find my true passion in my profession. Also, able to be financially independent in my profession and find purpose in my life and see what I'm capable of doing.

The challenges that I face that others might not see is, things I sacrifice my life, time, and opportunity. Also seeing other kids my age having fun, and not being able to do the same fun.

What I would like my future to be known for my creativity, problem-solving skills and for not being under pressure.

Title I Part C Education Program wants to congratulate Yosgar Arroyo from the ESU 7 Project for winning the Art and Essay Contest. We are proud of his creativity, dedication, and the talent he brings to our community. Great job, Yosgar!
